- McKinney became part of the “Monarch Butterfly Initiative.” (2017)
- McKinney was ranked the #1 Best Place to Live by CNN and Money Magazine in 2014, up from #2 in 2013, #5 in 2010 and #14 in 2008. McKinney is the only Texas city to make the Top 15 on four consecutive lists.
- Texas Highways Magazine readers selected McKinney as their #17-ranked favorite destination in Texas on the magazine’s Top 40 Cities list in 2014.
- McKinney has been named a Tree City USA by the National Arbor Day Foundation.
- First Lady Laura Bush designated McKinney a Preserve America City in 2006.

Interesting Facts:

- Downtown McKinney is one of the oldest authentic downtowns in Texas, with homes, commercial buildings, museums and bed and breakfasts dating back to the mid-1800s. The historic district boasts about 1,400 historic buildings, with many “housing” ghosts; ghost stories and legends abounds with Chestnut Square Historic Village offering ghost tours to guests.
- Tournament Players Club of Craig Ranch, a private club, was ranked 13th Best Golf Course in Texas by the Dallas Morning News in 2007. The TPC hosted the Nationwide Tour in 2008.
- The U.S. Census Bureau has repeatedly ranked McKinney as one of the fastest growing cities in America. Over the past three decades, the city has grown from 21,283 (1990) to 195,342 (2020).
- Olympic track gold medalist Michael Johnson selected McKinney for the location of his Michael Johnson Performance Center, a training facility for amateur and professional athletes as well as aspiring Olympic athletes.
- McKinney ISD boasts a 92 percent graduation rate with students earning a mean college entrance exam SAT score of 1103.
- The Dallas-Fort Worth metroplex is the fourth largest metropolitan area in the country, and McKinney’s complete build-out is predicted to rank it as the fourth largest city in the metroplex.
- McKinney was known for cotton crops and fabric manufacturing in the old McKinney Cotton Mill. The cotton mill closed in the 1970s, at which time it was the top manufacturer of denim in the world. Renovations began on the building in the late 1990s, with portions of it now being leased as office space as well as a ballroom/banquet hall that is available for special event rental. Its rustic features and unique design elements also make it a popular location for fashion and wedding photo shoots.
